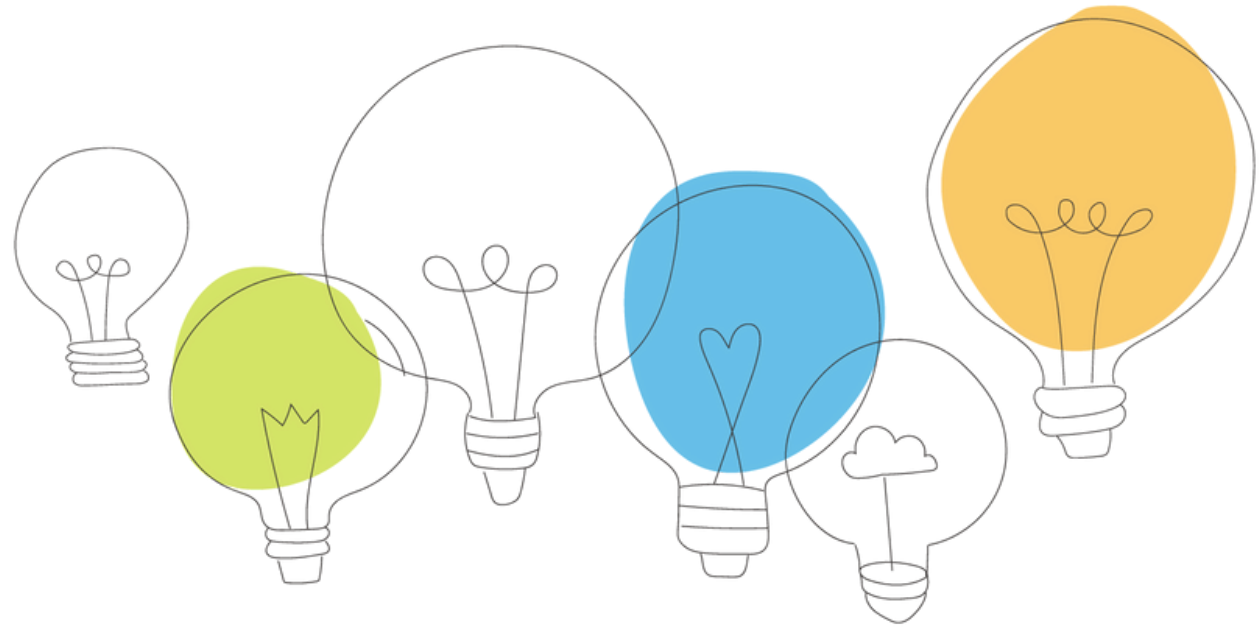
Innovation for the Future of Public Health

WHO Western Pacific Innovation Challenge



Innovators wanted!

The World Health Organization Regional Office for the Western Pacific is calling for innovators with public health solutions for the Region.

Any organisation registered in UN Member States are encouraged to join with innovative solutions for public health.

The finalists will be invited to the WHO Western Pacific Innovation Forum in early 2022. Their solutions will be presented to the representatives of WHO Member States in the Western Pacific, public organizations and partners. Donors and accelerators will also be in attendance.

The finalists will also be invited by The Lancet Regional Health –Western Pacific to contribute Viewpoints (peer reviewed opinion pieces) to a series co-created with WHO on public health innovation. All submissions are subject to editorial appraisals and peer-reviewing according to the journal's procedure.

Submission deadline: 30 November, 23:59 (Manila Time, GMT +8)
To submit your solutions, visit wproinnov.awardsplatform.com
For more info, click here
Contact wproinnov@who.int for inquiries.

World Health Organization
Western Pacific Region